

McREL turns knowledge about what matters most in education into effective guidance, training, and consultation for educators and leaders across the U.S. and around the world, helping schools make lasting changes in teaching, leading, and learning that result in better student outcomes.

“We have been very pleased with McREL. We are confident the training we have received will result in increases in student achievement.”

-Superintendent Nancy Allen-Mastro, West St. Paul-Mendota Heights, Minnesota

“McREL’s leadership training was relevant, timely, and very beneficial.”

-Dr. Nancy Alexander, Yavapai County Education Service Agency, Arizona

“McREL was instrumental in the development of our state-approved professional development system. I highly recommend them for work in your district.”

-Bette Zippin, Broward County Schools, Florida
